

About Birth Photography

Birth Photography Session

Though this is new to a lot of families, I want to remind you that the birth of your child will be the most miraculous experience you will encounter in your life. Hiring a birth photographer will free up your spouse or loved ones to solely focus on supporting you through your amazing journey.

About my methods:

I take a photo-journalistic approach to my photography, utilizing natural light when available to capture every detail you want to remember - while also keeping your privacy in mind, and without being intrusive. I will photograph and capture your moments as new parents to be, your labor, delivery, baby's first breaths, first moments and reactions with baby, who smiled, who cried, and all of the other details that you may miss in the fog of labor. These will be the most precious memories that you will ever have, lasting a lifetime and never forgotten when you hire me as your photographer to capture these moments. I will be on call for you 24/7 from one week prior to your due date until 1 week after. You or a loved one would simply contact me once you are confirmed to be in active labor. I will be there to photograph the entire journey including labor, delivery, and up to the first 90min of your new baby's life.

What you will receive:

Within the first 24 hours, you will receive 5 to 10 high resolution digital images via a link. These photos are great for birth announcements, social media shares, or your photo album. Within 2 weeks, you will receive a USB with 50 to 100 high resolution digital images with all rights to print for personal pleasures up to 8X10 .

Due to the unpredictable nature of labor and delivery, I am only able to accept two birth photography sessions a month. It would be an honor to be a part of your amazing journey!

Treasured Beginnings Photography Session:

If you decide that the birth photography session is not for you, I also offer a 90 minute documentary style photography session within the first 48 hours of your new baby's life. This can be done at the location of your baby's birth or in the comfort of your home. You will receive a private link with 15 to 25 high resolution digital images with all rights to print for personal pleasure up to 8X10 .

Hospital photographers only spend a few minutes with your baby, they only photograph the baby, and the prints are often times expensive. Since this is photographed as documentary style, these photos are candid, 100% natural, and everyone is included. A wonderful and affordable alternative that is much more meaningful to your family and friends.
